

Dear Explorer,

May this letter find you rested and well. With the expedition's end, we find ourselves with the task of evaluating the performance and accomplishments of the Corps of Discovery 1804-1806. As your captains, we are requesting that you submit a personal report of the expedition. Please include events of the journey that you believe were of great importance and significance. Your report should be thorough, providing great detail and accuracy, upholding the high standard with which the journals of the expedition were written. Your input is appreciated and will aid in an objective review of the Corps of Discovery.

Sincerely,

Captain Meriwether Lewis and Captain William Clark
