

Majority Rules!

Extension Ideas

- Request that students identify issues of interest in their school and home communities then hold an election. Use the mini tabulation sheet provided for students to record the results.
- Encourage your students to keep a Concerned Citizen's Journal where they can identify issues of interest and freely express their own opinions and reactions.
- Incorporate a "Vote of the Week" activity in your classroom allowing students to vote on a special treat, recess activity, book to be read aloud, bulletin board theme or class constitution.
